A-to-G

Why is it Important?

It is a moral, social, and economic civil rights imperative that we as a collective community ensure that future generations are prepared for success in college and career.

A-to-G

Why is it important?

The purpose of K-12 education is to best prepare students for any and all post-secondary opportunities they may choose.

We are preparing our students for jobs that do not yet exist. The best preparation is proficiency in critical thinking, communication, collaboration, & creativity.

Our goal is to transform today's scholars to become tomorrow's leaders. Our student scholars must have the foundational knowledge and fundamental skills necessary for civic participation, access to higher education, and career attainment to successfully lead in the 21st century.

The mission of West Contra Costa Unified School District is to graduate students who are college-prepared, career ready and globally competitive.
