

Welcome to

AAPAC

African-American Parent Advisory Council

We are an advocacy group made up of families of African-American students, the school staff, and community members who are committed to the academic success and awareness of our African-American Student body. We will provide advice and requests to the school principal and staff on programs and services that can improve academic outcomes for African-American students in school or community.

What is AAPAC?

Why is AAPAC important?

There is a significant achievement and opportunity gap separating our African-American students. Parental involvement in school has been demonstrated to be a major key factor for children's academic outcomes. Regardless of income or background, students with involved parents are more likely to earn higher grades, enroll in higher-level programs, develop enhanced social skills and behaviors, and adaptability.

Everyone is welcome to join our advocacy group and encouraged to voice their opinions and educational perspectives and targets on how we can improve academic outcomes for African-American families.

Let's work together to support your child's success and celebrate academic, social, cultural diversity and pride.

How can I get involved?