CAHSEE Information

March CAHSEE results are due to arrive in the district by the 2nd week in May.

Test Security Reminder!

The Directions for Administration (DFA) clearly direct students to clear their desks of electronic devices and any materials not needed for the test. If you are still testing, please ensure that your test examiners follow these procedures as outlined in the DFAs.

API 2012 Base Release to District

The 2012 Base API is tentatively scheduled for public release in mid-May. An email will be sent to principals when the embargoed data for districts are available. The data are to be kept secure and not shared until the public release.

New Online AP Results!

Students will access their AP scores online this July. This online score-reporting system replaces the old paper score reports, which will no longer be mailed.

All students must have an online College Board account to access their AP scores. Students will be able to view and download their cumulative Score Report, which will contain their 2013 AP scores, plus any previous years' AP scores. AP Scholar Awards (2012 or prior) will be listed on their online score report.
