

Favorite Websites

Secondary SH Teacher Favorites in WCCUSD

Websites for Students

<http://www.abcya.com/> ABCya.com provides an award winning collection of free, online educational games, searchable by grade and topic.

<http://www.starfall.com/> Starfall is a tried and true website for beginning literacy skills and basic math practice.

<http://www.ed1stop.com> Ed1Stop, hosted by the Contra Costa County Office of Education, offers useful content for WCCUSD teachers, students, and parents. Free access to subscription websites such as Learn360 videos and BrainPop are popular. Contact WCCUSD's Laurie Roberts at lroberts@wccusd.net for a login for yourself, and your students and their families. Pre K-12.

NEWSELA

<https://newsela.com/> At Newsela one can access news articles, each offered at 5 different reading levels. After reading students can take quizzes and chart their progress.

San Francisco Chronicle

<http://www.sfgate.com/> SFGate is a good source for news about local weather and current events.

<http://sfbay.craigslist.org/eby/ijj/> At Craigslist one can explore employment options with one's students in the Jobs listings.

<http://www.kidsknowit.com> Kids Know It Network aims to provide fun, educational activities for students of all ages, with a collection of games, activities, videos, music, and printables.

<http://beta.fdlp.gov/> Ben's Guide to the U.S. Government for Kids, is provided by the U.S. Government Printing Office. Online activities are provided for students to learn about the United States government. Pre K-12.

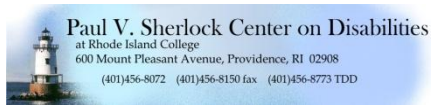

<http://www.coolmath-games.com/1-complete-game-list.html> Cool Math Games claims to be "the most popular educational website in the United States." Online math games for students Pre K-12 are available.

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/typing/> BBC Dance Mat is a terrific website for learning to type. Cartoon graphics and audio support help students to learn standard 10 finger typing, though students using few than 10 fingers will benefit from typing practice at the site, as well. All grades. For a list of more free typing resources, click here.

<http://www.spongelab.com/> Sponge Lab offers fun interactive science games, activities and simulations, K-12.

<http://www.ric.edu/sherlockcenter/wwslist.html> At Sherlock Center one can print adapted stories using a book list and age range. K-12.

<http://animoto.com/> At Animoto students can make slide shows and videos using pictures and audio they add. Has use across the curriculum for middle and secondary level students.

Websites for Teachers

SERI <http://seriweb.com/> SERI, or Special Education Resources on the Internet, offers Special Education Teachers links to many sped resources. The Transition resources and definitions of special education terminologies some educators find particularly useful.

<http://www.education.com> Education.com is a website designed for parents, but teachers may find useful lesson ideas here, as well. There is a great listing of Pre K-12 lesson ideas.

<http://www.teacherspayteachers.com> Teachers Pay Teachers offers many thousands of free lesson ideas, as well as lesson ideas for sale. English Language Arts and Math are popular topics, Pre K-12.

<https://www.graphite.org> At Graphite one can search for top rated websites for students. Pre K-12.