

The Richmond High School Shield

The shield, adopted as a defense by our ancestors soon after their enemies began to furl rocks at them, is no longer necessary as a weapon of defense. For ages it has been a cherished symbol of equipment for life.

Emblazoned on our high school shield are certain figures and emblems which are to remind us constantly not only of the privileges but also of the obligations of the school whose name we proudly bear. That name appears as the foundation of the legend of the shield. To the left and the right are the fasces which have come down to us from Roman Antiquity. In olden times they were a bundle of rods having among them an axe with the blade protruding, and were borne before a Roman magistrate as a badge of authority.

The rods represent the students, who are bound together by the constitution into a perfect union in which each adds to the strength of the whole and at the same time derives protection from it. The axe in the midst is the authority which we delegate to our organizations and to which each one should gladly render obedience.

In the upper part of the shield appear the three emblems which typify the three-fold nature of our education.

The winged foot, ancient emblem of speed, represents physical education, including athletics. We are taught to respect and care for our physical beings, to strive in physical contests, to remember that good sportsmanship come above victory, and that we must ever preserve the good name of the school in athletics.

The lamp signifies education - mechanical, commercial, cultural, professional - by which we may equip ourselves for life work and interests. By the aid of its light we become proficient in our vocations and avocations.

The liberty cap represents citizenship, It stands for liberty, equality, and justice. By it, we are reminded of the colors of our flag and the duties we owe to the state. We are taught to obey in order that we may govern. This emblem occupies the center space at the top, which is to signify that is crowns all and binds all together in the perfect union.

In the center of the shield is the open book which teaches that education is free for the taking. As its pages are turned, new worlds will be revealed to all of use who care to explore. The rising sun is typical of youth. It also represents the light which education sheds on life.

Taken together, these historic symbols are our strong shield for life and represent for our school the accomplishments of the past, the ideals of present, and the hopes of the future.

“Education is the key which unlocks the storehouse of wisdom.”

Our strong band can ne’er be broken
Formed in Richmond High
Far surpassing wealth unspoken
Sealed by friendship’s tie.

Chorus:
Alma Mater, Alma Mater
Deep graven on each heart,
Shall be found unwav’ring true
When we from life shall part.
High school life at best is passing
Gliding swiftly by,
Then let us pledge in word and deed
Our love for Richmond High.
